

ONE GALLON OF USED MOTOR OIL
CONTAMINATES ONE MILLION GALLONS OF WATER

Our drinking water and environment are threatened because many people who change their own motor oil do not recycle. Instead, they are dumping it onto the ground, down the drains, and even putting it in the trash. Used motor oil contains toxic chemicals, such as lead, arsenic, and benzene, which are harmful to humans, fish, and wildlife. When used motor oil is not recycled, most of the harmful chemicals end up in our groundwater supply and in our rivers, lakes, streams, and oceans. Recycling used oil is the safest way to handle it and the best way to protect the environment. Please recycle.

DUMPING USED MOTOR OIL IN CALIFORNIA IS AGAINST THE LAW!

That is why your city has implemented a Used Motor Oil Recycling Program. Selected retailers near you have agreed to accept used motor oil from the public at no charge. Additionally, the cities of Banning, Beaumont, Calimesa, Corona, Murrieta, and Norco have curbside collection for used oil. To find the nearest Certified Used Oil Collection Center or to learn about the convenience of curbside collection programs call 1-800-350-4OIL.

USED MOTOR OIL
RECYCLING DOs and DON'Ts

- Do drain used motor oil into a clear, clean plastic drain pan or container with a tight lid.
- Do take your used motor oil to a Certified Used Oil Collection Center. (See back panel for locations or look for the recycling  logo).
- Do use a container which will hold no more than five gallons of used motor oil.
- Do reuse your used motor oil containers. Put the lid back on tightly and store it away from children and pets.
- Do tell your family and friends that recycling used motor oil is easy, convenient, and good for the environment.
- Do Not pour used motor oil into a storm drain or wash down the gutter.
- Do Not pour used motor oil or place filter in the trash.
- Do Not dump used motor oil on the ground, in the lakes, streams or wetlands.
- Do Not burn used motor oil.
- Do Not mix used motor oil with other automobile fluids.
- Do Not leave used motor oil at collection centers before or after business hours.

Why?

- ✓ The steel that encloses the actual filter, can be recovered and transformed into useful products such as construction reinforcement bar, paper clips, etc.
- ✓ The used oil left in used filters can also be recovered for recycling.

Recycling used oil filters is EASY!

All you have to do is to take your used oil filter to any of the certified centers located in western Riverside County that displays this
